

Was established in 1991.

The company was purchased by a group of businessmen associated with :

The Society of Merchant Ventures Bristol

In 2006 after seeing the buoyant trading record, and quality of directors and staff that were to remain after the sale.

The business still maintains its reputation as a leading roofing and cladding contractor and sees the opening of its first regional office based in St Mellons Cardiff early in 2010.

All Mass was until the sale pretty much run as a family business with fathers, sons, husbands, wives, uncles, aunts and cousins all working together in some capacity.

The company still trades with three of its original four directors offering their experience on a daily basis in either director or managerial roles.

This along with several key members of staff, both office and site based to boot is one of the main reasons for the continued success.

The experience that each member of staff can draw upon is vast and wide in the company.

This is one of the main reasons All Mass are known as a specialist company within its field – of ROOFING AND CLADDING.

All Mass has a very large and varied portfolio, which largely focuses on the industrial Roofing and Cladding Industry so hopefully we will hold one or more of the solutions to help your company in their search.

The diversity of jobs which include High Class tower blocks/flats, schools, Colleges, universities, hospitals, residential buildings, commercial buildings, warehouses, business units, and sports and leisure centres.

The type of work All Mass will take on is varied so if the particular area you are looking for is not mentioned or shown in the job profile list please don't hesitate to call and discuss your query.

All Mass has worked hard with suppliers and clients alike to provide the end user with the best possible building envelope.

We have partnerships with both suppliers & clients and feel this definitely is the way forward as an industry and a company if we're all to meet current regulations and laws.

This close working relationship helps throughout the conception of a buildings lifecycle as the customer, client, manufacturers and builders can all design together with the specification and end use being constantly updated and focused on.
